~JOE KUTTER'S REMARKS TO THE GENERAL BOARD

The GBEC generously invited Acting Executive Director, Joe Kutter to report on the work of the Ministers Council to the General Board. After expressing appreciation for the opportunity, he began his remarks as follows.

Why take this job?

This story comes from my own family experience but I believe that represents literally thousands of men and women who engage ministry in our ABC family. At the time, my dad was a pastor, the pastor of a small, small-town, nearly rural church. A leading family in the congregation had a son, about my age, who graduated from high school, went off to join the military and then returned home. One day, with both of his parents in the house, the son went into the bathroom and used a gun to take his own life. My parents immediately went to be with the parents who were both members of the church and friends. As my father sat with the family, prayed and talked together, my mother took a bucket of cleaning materials into the bathroom and cleaned it up. Together they entered into the family's sorrow and extended the ministry of Christ.

I tell that story, not because it is something that was or is unique to the experience of my parents but because it is not. Every day, thousands of women and men in congregations large, medium and small, enter into the sorrow of their people and extend the ministry of Christ. Most do it without notice and many do it without much pay. They just do it because they feel that God has called them into that ministry. Over the years, these men and women have become heroes to me, models of Christ, and the very incarnation of grace. And it is my privilege to serve them at this time in my life.

~SABBATICAL GRANTS

2009 National Clergy Renewal Program

Lilly Endowment seeks to strengthen Christian congregations by providing opportunities for pastors to step away briefly from the persistent obligations of daily parish life and to engage in a period of renewal and reflection. Life-giving experiences – strengthening relationships, renewing a sense of call, meeting and serving the neighbor in a new way, finding joy are common themes of these renewal times.

In the clergy renewal program, the Endowment anticipates awarding as many as 120 grants of up to $50,000 each directly to Christian congregations for the support of a renewal program for their pastor. Up to $15,000 of the grant may be used for congregational expenses associated with the renewal program.

The deadline for applying for the 2009 renewal grants is May 14, 2009. For more information and application information visit www.lillyendowment.org and click on Religion.

~MEDITATION ON RETIREMENT

(Ian Rankin, Exit Music, (New York: Little Brown and Company, 2007) 421 pages)

John Rebus is about to retire from a 30 plus year career, described in several good crime novels, as an Edinburgh detective and this decisive reality establishes the emotional setting for Exit Music. As the story winds its way towards the solving of the crimes in focus, Rebus and his cohorts ponder retirement.

Arriving home “he promised himself he’d make it as far as the bedroom but there was a spare duvet behind the sofa just in case. He had a bottle of whiskey, too – eighteen-year-old whiskey too – eighteen-year-old Highland Park, bought the previous weekend and with a couple of good hits left in it. Ciggies and booze and a little night music. At one time they would have provided enough consolation, but he wondered if they would sustain him once the job was behind him. What else did he have? P. 14

‘Bit maudlin tonight, are we, John?’ he asked himself out loud. Then he gave a little chuckle....” P. 14

“Groups of kids were weaving their way past the shop fronts, paying him not the slightest heed. ‘When did I become the invisible man?’ Rebus asked himself. Catching his reflection in a window, he saw heft and bulk. Yet these kids teemed past as if he had no place in their version of the world.

Is this how ghosts feel? he wondered. P. 184
