A Word from the President

"I wish you all peace and good!"

In the June 07, 2019 issue of America, the Jesuit Review, Stephen Grant wrote of his experience of being a monk for a month at the Trappist monastery, Mepkin Abbey. He recounts how the first two weeks of living as a Trappist were novel and engaging. But during the third week, he hit the monastic wall of monotony and began counting the days until his departure.

I am thinking about his experience as I am finishing my third week of self-isolating retreat in what I refer to as my urban monastery in southern Oregon. The first two weeks were novel and I was engaged in practices of prayer and contemplation. But like Stephen Grant, the third week began to wear on my soul. My pace began to slow as future plans evaporated. This was further complicated by the rising fears of contagion and the reality that this imposed monasticism will last more than a month.

As I enter this fourth week of curious monastic life, I am reminded of five-point Pilgrims Credo of Murray Bodo<sup>[1]</sup>, 1) I am not in control, 2) I am not in a hurry, 3) I walk in faith and hope, 4) I greet everyone with peace, 5) I bring back only what God gives me.

From my hermitage to yours, I wish you each peace and all good. Be gentle with yourselves and others around you. The Lord is near. (Phil. 4:5) Be strong and of good courage... God is with you. (Deut. 31:6). All shall be well, and all shall be well, and all manner of thing shall be well (Julian of Norwich).

... and you shall make holy the year and you shall proclaim liberty throughout the land to all its inhabitants ... you shall return, everyone one of you, to your property and to your family ... you shall not sow or reap the aftergrowth or harvest the unpruned vines ... you shall eat only what the field itself produces. – parts of Leviticus 25

WHEN GOD DECLARES JUBILEE

The Spirit descends
Good News proclaimed:
you are free and deeply loved.
The empire is disrupted
and the earth takes a breath.
Everyone returns home work is suspended.
All creation rests

Captive thoughts are set free Storage boxes are opened freed memories escape
An exiled loved one returns home.

Disoriented,
illusions wither,
blindness give way to a new vision of life shaped as Fruit of the Spirit

It is the Sabbath of Sabbaths a year of favor an acceptable time to ask the questions:
Who am I?
Who are you, God?

An ardent supporter of bivocational ministry, Rev. Reader has often worked in other employment (especially college teaching and church consulting) while continuing in pastoral ministry.
